City lights in your eyes Â'til the morning rises
And swallows up your pride
Feel the alive, fell the fire this smoke is infectious
One dance left, pray you donÂ't get burnt

Sell your lies Â'til the nightmare defines you
And swallows up your life
To ignite to inspire, these foreign objectives
One more chance, pray you donÂ't get hurt

Oh my God weÂ're going down

City lights for a serenade
Shooting stars on your wedding day
Fall apart when I see your face
And run away, run away

Open eyes, fall apart when the morning rises
Lighting all your cracks
Take a call, someone old, when you coming home girl

One breath left, pray you make it last

Oh my God weÂ're going down

City lights for a serenade
Shooting stars on your wedding day
Fall apart when I see your face
And run away, run away

Go tell your lies
(go tell your lies)
IÂ'm looking in your eyes
(in your eyes)
And I can see to my surprise, your light that used to shine
Fades into City lights
(these city lights)

City lights for a serenade
Shooting stars on your wedding day
Fall apart when I see your face

And run away, run away
