2. Daystar

A golden Octoroon, to myth every man
A ram's head guarding the door of mirror man
Arrows pointing the way to other lands
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ahh

Days of fire, the Priest of Venus came
Filled your heart with a love to match the game
In one direction the arrow points the same
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ahh

All the constellations, with their constellations,
Imagine the Nations

Midnight men in the darkness overhead
Dropping pages of some old book you read
At your feet you will find the arrowhead
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ahh

All the constellations, with their constellations,
Imagine the Nations

Astro Princess of dimension
Wearing glimmer in her hair
Paid for guess with secret chances
Someday I will take you where...
Hector opens the door to memorize
Ends of glances that meet in other eyes
Every time that you look into the skies
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ahh

Round the corner behind another face
Nightmare always had gone without a trace
Stars and arrows will meet you every place
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ahh

All the constellations, with their constellations,
Imagine the Nations

Shadows running away with yesterday
Leaving dawn as a wish, behind the gray

Daystar shine in the end to find the way
Ah, ahhhh ahhhh ah ah

All the constellations, with their constellations,
Imagine the Nations

There's no time for reading fortunes
Anything you see is there
Arrows point in one direction

Someday I will take you where...
