

Saad Ahmad Khan "Searching A Name For Love"

Visit "Searching A Name For Love" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm sitting on the edge

With the moon by my side

I'm thinking about

The reasons for your goodbyes

Now you're a memory

I know it will never leave

This broken path leads me on

To a place I never belong

Searching a name for love

In the depth of the seas

Searching a name for love

In the woods and the peaks

Does it really exist, now it's a mystery?

Searching a name for love

Would have been so easy,

If you had stayed in me.

Baby

I wake up every night

Looking for you by my side

There's nothing left of your love

And faded paintings on my wall

Iâ€™m hearing my broken voice

And the last time you broke down and cried.
Searching a name for love

In the depth of the seas

Searching a name for love

In the woods and the peaks

Does it really exist, now itâ€™s a mystery?

Searching a name for love

Would have been so easy

If you had stayed in me

Baby

Times weâ€™ve been together

Seems to have gone by

Iâ€™m getting on stronger

Smiling to the world that pass me by.

Searching a name for love

In the depth of the seas

Searching a name for love

In the woods and the peaks

Does it really exist, now itâ€™s a mystery?

Searching a name for love

Would have been so easy

If you had stayed in me

Baby

Visit Saad Ahmad Khan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.