I'm not one to complain
I'm not one to complain
but I need you here
I've been calling your name
I've been calling your name
and I won't be foolish
I won't be a fool
this time, this time around

I've tried post-its and rubber bands things to remind of who I am, what I stand for but they, they won't do cause I can't hurt them like I hurt you

I'm not one to complain
I'm not one to complain
but I need you here
I've been calling your name
I've been calling your name

and I won't be foolish

I am sorry for all I've done I know this sorry sounds a lot like the last one but I swear it's not and you are all that I have got

I'm not one to complain
I'm not one to complain
but I need you here
and I won't be foolish
