Could you imagine?
Could you set aside your world?
And feel another's pain and hunger
Trodden and broken by their drums
Struggling to see tomorrow's sun

My worth, as your worth
We breathe, we bleed

Your life enslaved and passed on
Your shrinking cage they own
So just play along

My worth, as your worth
We breathe, we bleed

Your democracy is the end of me
False pretext selling,
Lies the normalize, my hunger
I suffer for your gain

Something is wrong here
We're taught to turn a blind eye
So just play along
