"Shape And Form"

Friends of old and those of new, far and few
I will not change; I'll be there for you
Family lost I'll hold your name, memories remain
Your smiles I will always retain

Days like leaves, their colours change and fade to grey
Clearing way for the next to replace
See a world through my two eyes, my empire
As through your eyes, ends in due time

I'm defined through you, in life or death
No wall of times enough, to forget

I take form from you,
I am formed from you
