I've been I've been waiting hesitating and I can't make a choice right now

Been, meditating on my options and I can't seem to figure it out

The future is an endless possibility
The future what does it hold for me

Please don't try and push me, let me rest here for a while

The unknown is frightening, I wanna think a little longer
As some of the costumes are forgotten this humid feeling grows

We share our exhaustion from the days work and it is our home

The future is an endless possibility
The future what does it hold for me

Please don't try and push me, let me rest here for a while
