Don't you know
after picking the glass off the ground Don't you know
after shaking the thing for a sound

Do we see what the clock makes you do
But I won't let this happen to you

In a town where I lost every shirt on the fence
Don't you know
I am bleeding a trail through the lens

When I see what I now know is you I was caught in the eye as you came Pulled by my name I'm fallin' through

Traveling at godspeed
over the hills and trails I have refused my call pushin' my lazy sails
Into the blue flame
I want to crash here right now The hourglass spills it's sand if only to punish you for listenin' too long to one song

listenin' too long
to one song

Sing me Spanish techno

to one song
listenin' too long
to one song

Don't you know
after wiring the thing to explode Wired for sound wide awake here for days in a row

Now we see what the engine can do
And I won't let this happen to you I won't let this happen to you

CHORUS
