You're right I could be wrong, but God it feels so right Word on the street, I'm broken and beat But I've never been so alive You might think I'm lost, maybe you're right I ride at my pace, cause this is no race, that's how I get around Call me what you will, I'd like to see you try I'm Sorry, I came across the wrong way I'm Sorry, I wouldn't trust me anyways I can't promise anything anymore... (I can't promise anything, I won't promise anything) But maybe I could change your mind If baby, you'd give me just a night I can't promise anything anymore Sorry but I'm Single You built a wall around you.. did you think it through? Check my status, it's the raddest, I aint gonna lie Call me what you will, I'd like to see you try I'm Sorry, I came across the wrong way I'm Sorry, I wouldn't trust me anyways I can't promise anything anymore... (I can't promise anything, I won't promise anything) But maybe I could change your mind If baby, you'd give me just a night Cause I can't promise anything anymore Sorry but I'm Single... Is that so wrong I've hurt myself or someone else a million times now I refrain I'm not in it for what you think Sorry you thought I thought you were the only one You're not the only one.
