Epic fail. Inconsistencies, false tongues, making the kings of man fall down before the sea. Burning cities, false wonders of man, fall below the waves again. We are drowning, we are drowning beneath the waves of your, your past failures. Now troy is burning. Burning. I rather watch from a distance. Doom. Let this be a lesson for you. You are all doomed. Inhale, the scents of deceit. Secrets past down from father to son. Reliving the past of defeat. Failing the children of earth. Humanity has failed you all. Their potion weaken your bodies and cloud your thoughts. It fools your mind. Cover your face, for your body begins to rot. Your lying tongue, I caught you in the act. You mortals understand so little. I give you so much and ask for so little. Now its time to pay. What is intact today, will shatter tomorrow, for all is dust. All must return to the sun. you have all failed me for the last time. Return to the earth. Return, Return, Return, Return. I have left you to drown on your own.
