Their dye was cast before I ever met them. Mirrors hide images of suffering. Closets full of severed limbs. In the corners of my eyes, faces of the dead past. I turn and no ones there. I turn and no ones there. I turn and no ones there. I turn and no ones there. Hear my thoughts and let thy mind rot, your days on this world are numbered. Hear my thoughts and let thy mind rot, your days on this world are numbered. You can not hide forever, the stars have foreseen this. You cannot hide forever, the stars have foreseen this. Symbolic meanings in the heavens. Deceitful premonitions of guilt. Divine intervention to invoke the fear of the holy one. Forced to your knees. I look down upon you from the throne made of promises. I descend downward from above. I bash the heads in of those with the foolish tongue. Pile the carcass upon the others. Checks the autopsy, of the deceased. Piles the body upon the others. You hurt and humiliate others, you disrespectful little shit. I will burn you. Burn. Call sadistic, but did you ever think of how they felt? No. Call me sadistic, but did you ever think of how they felt? No. your honor I am not sick. I help the weak, I saved those who couldn't save themselves. I avenged those already past. Call this the mind of a criminal, the mind of a sick man, but this is just the mind of a gentleman. Call this the mind of a criminal, the mind of a sick man, but this is just the mind of a gentleman.
