I must have looked the other way
Never saw you come in today
haunting.
And Iâ€™m wanting
Something is screaming from your skin
itâ€™s looking for companion.
You talk to me as if you want to free me.

But I want to hold you hostage.
I want to keep you for ransom tonight.
No matter what the cost is,
Iâ€™m never letting you get away

Her name is singing from the quire
Watching your breath,
Iâ€™m getting highly drawn to you
As we play this prelude.
And Iâ€™ll never make it out alive
unless I find a place to hide inside you, love.

Looking for a cover.

But I want to hold you hostage.
I want to keep you for ransom tonight.
No matter what the cost is,
Iâ€™m never letting you get away.

But I want to hold you hostage.
I want to keep you for ransom tonight.
No matter what the cost is,
Iâ€™m never letting you get away.
Away.
Never letting you get away.
Away.

I want to hold you hostage.
I want to keep you for ransom tonight.
No matter what the cost is,
Iâ€™m never letting you get away.
