Cemetery Leaves
Lyrics by: Nick Santone

You waited long, for a sea to carry you far beyond the pain and misery.
You wait and see if it's what you'd expect.
Now below the dawn, the wind, it carries you far beyond
all this reasoning.
You try and breathe but it cuts like a knife.

It's just you and me tonight.
If we can get this thing right.

Now it seems long.
Your pulse it jumps like the words of all these Orderlies.
You're try to breathe, but it doesn't feel right.

It's just you and me tonight.
If we can get this thing right.
It seems there's no way to go.
These wings will carry you far beyond.
I won't believe when you're gone.
Just stay one more day with us.

If you know where, where I can't see
Right back home, will bring you right here with me.
But I can see you go, and it's between you and him,
To keep your life back again, I know what I can't see
Right back home, will bring you right here with me.
But I can see you go, and it's between you and him
To bring your life back again...bring you right back again.
