

Pale Autumn "Final Act"

Visit "Final Act" on MotoLyrics.com

Final Act

The scene is gone, it went away.
Aside from what you know it's the life you want to lead.
You carry on your Cabaret
A side you never shown and you're the last one to be
And now the show must go on..

You bend the rule that's breaking me.
You can't get enough, no, and you're the last one to leave
Watching as you fade away
You can't get enough, no, so this final act repeats.
And now the your show must go on..

I see the dawn, it fades,
You're proud enough you sunk this.
A light below the fare thee well.
Believe what is still see.
She keeps her devils cold and safe.
Her pride is beneath the sin and shame.
Believe that I still know your name
Believe that I still see.

I see the dawn, it stares
You're proud enough you sunk this.
A light below the fare thee well.
Believe what is till see.

It was so nice to know you.
It was so nice to know you.

I see the dawn, it stares
You're proud enough you sunk this.
A light below the fare thee well.
Believe what is till see.

Lyrics written by: Nick Santone

Visit Pale Autumn page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

---

