

Pale Autumn "Marionette"

Visit "Marionette" on MotoLyrics.com

Marionette

Well here we go about the 100th time I got you walking away.

Got my ticket for another free ride but its pulling my strings

Like the depths of the devils eyes, she's telling me the same old lies.

It's just another train falling off of the tracks.

Whatever you chose, I think we all know how this rides
gonna end.

And you say, I'm watching the waves pour over it all.

This circus is all I ever know.

Nothing but wrong times on my side.

Pulling left you got me pulling, I'm like a Marionette.

I tied my love to the train tracks and I'm watching it end.

I'm writing these postcards while you're doing your own thing.

Going back and forth like we're heaven and hell.

Whatever you chose, I think we all know how this rides
gonna end.

And you say, I'm watching the waves pour over it all.

This circus is all I ever know.

Nothing but wrong times on my side.

Lyrics written by: Nick Santone

Visit Pale Autumn page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.