When you've lived your life and it all comes down
I want to know to know to know right now what is it that you've found

Please look in my eyes
And you'll see let me live my life
I'm doing this for me

I refuse to live my life this way
Stuck in a day that never ends
I refuse to live my life this way
Stuck in a day that not begins
I refuse to do my life with way
Stuck in a world that does not bend

After all the lessons you have taught to me
I'll do this on my own

I'm not what you expect me
But I refuse to bury myself
Not in this way no.

When time has run out
Will you find out
Just what you have sacrificed
To leave behind for you

Will you notice
The faces of the people
You come to love and learned to hate just so you can live

I remember

Times a virtue
But I have come to run out of the line
I've come to run out of the time
I recall that I have lived once back in the past this clock is just an empty test.

Find me in line to break the time
I have no desire to sit here waiting as life is ticking by
You can find me free as ever
In an empty room
Faces free of numbers talking to Me as if they are human to Don't confuse these sets of numbers for the ones you love
They're impersonating lives of others more than come

Please say hello to father time
Your clock is ticking and you've traded your bank for your life
I am not just another black sheep
I am the one that was severed from the heard
I am not just another black sheep
I am the one that was severed from the heard

Please say hello to father time
