

New End Original "Weary Progress"

Visit "Weary Progress" on MotoLyrics.com

It was a nervous little shudder,
I was thinking of my mother,
I was making up excuses,
I was sorry, sore, no intimacy.
Cradlecap and funny sports and thin.
I miss my daughter's breath.
What really sticks it in
are the cold spots in the bed.

Like everybody in the world,
I want to be misunderstood.
Likable, creepy,
underrated, braggart,
busy, really good.
It's weary progress.
I yell, I get frustrated, I scream.
Drunk brother painting bare rooms.
Christmas trees are scary things at 2 a.m and foolish lips are all the way in Boston, but they're sounding pretty good.

Like everybody in the world, I want to be misunderstood.
Likable, creepy,
underrated, braggart,
busy, really good.
It's weary progress.

Visit New End Original page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.