When will this mess ever up?
How long again will they have to bear the load of your insolent vanity?
Will we someday take off this blindfold, and finally dare to open our eyes on the outbreak of oppression and for years has been going on 2,000 miles away from here?

Our western government pretend to care, and only satisfy with their hopeless peace process

Sidewalks have turned to cemeteries without a single grave to rest in peace.
What's left of the light of hope that has been driving us?

It flickers out and dwindles as we get bogged down in this shitty situation, we watch it slowly going out...

Hey Mr Sharon look at what you've done, and all these kids throwing stones to your tanks that pulled down the schoolyards they used to play in, they'd better be in...

When will it end?
All our prayers misplaced...
Religions turn people into pawns fighting in the name of God, but only lightening the way to an illusory freedom.
