It feels like regrets are all I can get.
Don't you feel the same.
I watched you walk away,
why did it have to end this way?
It's not what we'd planned...

I should have shown concern,
I should have shown what I felt inside, I'm so stupid.
If I could make up for my mistakes would it change a thing? Would you care for me?

Soft words whispered... We hug together, rekindling this flame burning within us.
I wish it could last forever...

Feels good to see you smile,
guess you left the past behind.
We'll never be running out of time now,
I'll do my best to make things right.

To take care of you baby,
to wipe those tears away,
to see this smile on your face again,
not to fail what I try to undertake to do with you again.

Feels so good to be by your side honey, I missed you.
I will make myself sure not turn this light in your eyes off anymore...
