you know how to find me in the morning before its begun cause you know that i'm always up before the sun with my head just under the clouds oh its only love
oh its only love
oh its only love love love you know how to hear me in the spotlight on top of my song you know how i try and i know when i'm wrong you could find that out on your own
oh its only love
oh its only love
you said it right the day is starting everything everything might get on right i know i want it everything everything cause you know how to find me when i'm dreaming next to the moon cause you remember me like i remember you from the note right in the between

oh its only love
oh its only love
oh its only love love love
oh its only love
oh its only love
oh its only love love love
oh its only love
oh its only love
