The end is near when you see the fire.
The war is lost when the gun is loaded.
No wills and no desires.
How many miles can a man run?

Sometimes it's hard to see the limits.
Before you cross the border line
Clear you mind, forget the councils
It could be the prefect crime

We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!
We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!

Late at night forget you problems
After all what's done is done
Free your mind, you can be crazy

No body knows the way to go home

We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!
We live in the Streets of firecome on!!

Sharing all our problems
Sharing all our love
We can't find an answer
At the end..Are we lost at all??

We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!
We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!
We live in the Streets of firerunning going home!!
