After work I go to the bar
I get there quick its not too far
I take a friend or two for fun
We have some beers and then we're done theres a girl who works tonight
I think I'll try to be polite
I've talked to her a night or two
I wonder if she likes me too

It's after twelve I see the clock
She wants to ride around the block
She gives a peck or two upon my cheek
We do the same thing the next week
Im at the bar with my two friends they think that she is just pretend her arm comes up around my shoulder and she gives a smile cuz I want to hold her

I take a midnight ride alone
I thought you were the one and now you're gone
I take a midnight ride alone
I thought systems were go but I was wrong

This week is looking pretty great
I want to take her on a date
I have her number in my phone
I wonder if shes even home
I send a message one comes back
My confidence it fades to black
I wonder if she wont commit but she said her boyfriend wont like it

I take a midnight ride alone
I thought you were the one and now you're gone
I take a midnight ride alone
I thought systems were go but I was wrong

I take a midnight ride alone
I thought you were the one and now you're gone
I take a midnight ride alone
I thought systems were go but I was wrong
