Verse 1: When I saw your eyes I saw them shut Reminded me of the time you cried ten years away
When I walked up to your throne
It weighed in heavy, and would be there day by day

PreChorus: and I... Can't color in your eyes...
and I... Can't shade away the pain... and you... are the one I've been imagining...
... because your life's a perfect painting.

Verse 2:
You've got a little room, you can hide away from the world
Its got a window,
you can see the clouds roll in
You have so many things you can do, you could be there night and day
Until the children come, and take your life away...

PreChorus: and I... Can't color in your eyes... and I... Can't
shade away the pain...
and you... are the one I've been imagining...
because your life's a perfect painting.

Chorus: I could fill my canvas with words, and still not get any closer to yours It's perfect, a perfect painting
Vibrant colors shine bright, its like all your paint was filled with life
It's perfect, a perfect painting.

PreChorus: and I... Can't color in your eyes...

and I... Can't shade away the pain...
and you... are the one
I've been imagining... and I... Can't color in your eyes...
and I... Can't
shade away the pain...
and you... are the one I've been imagining...
because your life's a perfect painting...
