It's been months and I've been mining all the day and night but there's something missing I just cannot get it right I need something I need more than what I have at hand is there something far and wide or right beneath this land

Redstone, I need more power, Redstone, I need more energy X2

I've got doors and I've got buttons and some pressure plates
No more creepers no more spiders zombies in my base
If you want to get inside you need a sequence
This is better than your wooden doors and fences

Redstone, I need more power, Redstone, I need more
energy X6
