Bashing and beating your head on everything
Will this day be better than the last?
Fumbling, tumbling down the stairs
Will I make it out there?

But when the sun rises
It'll be just fine
But when the moon sets
Its time to play and mess around
While going outside and taking the world

I'm taking the world

Fussing and fighting with your inner dialogue
Will my conscience ever give up?
Fixing and mixing with the prestigious
Will they ever let me speak?

But when the sunrises
Stumble out into the open air
But when the moon sets
Oh its time to play and mess around
While going outside and taking the world
