with uneasy smiles and breaths you
draw closer to me, yeah.
with your eyes half open
the future you long to see.

yet there's no perfection
dwelling in curiosity.
it's just a chance you take
and a rule you have to break.

and your lips parted
and your feet inching
and you act like i can't read your mind this time.
and please don't even

beginning to pick me up
if you're only gonna
only gonna,
only gonna,
watch me fall.

with blank stares but sparkling eyes
you ask what's on my mind.
looking at the stars from the backseat oh we're just passing time.
