Go to now
After picking the glass off the ground
Go to now
After shaking the thing for a sound
Do we see what the clock makes you do
But I won't let this happen to you

In a town
Where I lost every shirt on the fence
Go to now
I am bleeding a trail through the lens
When I see what I now know is you
I was caught in the eye as you came
Pulled by my name
Up, on and through

Traveling at Godspeed
Over the hills and trails
I have refused my car
Pushing my lazy cells
Into the blue flame
I want to crash here right now
The hourglass spills its sand
If only to punish you

For listening too long to one song
Listening too long to one song
Sing me Spanish techno
Listening too long to one song
Listening too long to one song
Sing me Spanish techno

Go to now
After wiring the thing to explode
Wired for sound
Wide awake here for days in a row
Now we see what the engine can do
And I won't let this happen to you
I won't let this happen to you

Traveling at Godspeed
Over the hills and trails

I have refused my car
Pushing my lazy cells
Into the blue flame
I want to crash here right now
The hourglass spills its sand
If only to punish you

For listening too long to one song
Listening too long to one song
Sing me Spanish techno
Listening too long to one song
Listening too long to one song
Sing me Spanish techno
