my mistake
i was having a bad day threw your stuff in the fireplace must have thought that it would take away all my pain, how i feel about you how you put me through so much, so much girl

but when i'm behind closed doors and i've got my eyes closed i seem to think about you

i don't wanna live a day
caught up in your memory
cause i still think about you (still think bout you
i still think about you
still think bout you)
i don't wanna live a day
(still think bout you
still think bout you)

you, you, you, you, you, you, you, you

rewind to that day in my room i said i love you girl i told the truth to you

(still think bout you

how could you
you take me for a fool i wouldn't do that to you baby how could you try to turn everything like i was *to blame*
