i have chosen to abandon my post become a refugee of this fantastic life and all are moved moved by feelings of love

stand alone i fight alone it's been so long baby bring me home and we go on though the battle's won from dusk till dawn i've seen it all i've seen it all burning i've been moved moved by feelings of love a revolutionary of this fantastic life take your provocation wasted information gone and your useless information take your provocation

it's too much information i've seen it all burn down baby and not a situation the sorrow hesitation
