

Dave Reachill

"Small Things"

Visit "Small Things" on MotoLyrics.com

Lately the birds have started to fly
Away from the town and into the sky

I'm over here you're over there
I'm holding my breath 'cause I know
That you care about the small things

Distance delightfully melts all the space
Between all the cities and all the great lakes
And into the night we talk about the world
It's easy to see when you're light years away
And I'm waiting

Daisy chains wont break the love that you gave

Don't throw it away 'cause I'm here to say

Counting all the stars reflections in time
All of the places you leave behind
Remind me of when i had smoke in my eyes
I could see the sights, been driving for miles

Daisy chains wont break the love that you gave
Don't throw it away 'cause I'm here to stay
Everyday you'll find a little piece of mind
To carry that weight across the line

Visit Dave Reachill page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.