Don't go thinking i'm crazy
But my fear is it's too late
Won't go making no trouble
'cause i feel like i could break

All of those times i ran away
From all of those things i used to say
All of those plans i had
To give it all

And i feel like i could break
And i feel like i could break
Now it's more than i can take
And i feel like i could break

Don't go thinking i'm crazy
But i'm feeling your heartache
Your creation through your eyes
There is pain it's no mistake

Closer i get to you i see
Souls full of hurt, full of need
The closer i get i see less of me

And i feel like i could break
And, i feel like i could break
Lord, i know now it's getting late
Let my heart be broken by your heartache
And i feel like i could break
Now, it's more than i can take

'cause all of those times i ran away
From all of those things I used to say
And all of those pains i feel
Revealed to me

Don't go thinking i'm crazy
But i feel like
