I hear that the redeemer's risen
They say that He died to save
But how can it be that He died and rose for me?
Has the Lord defeated the grave?

I hear that the redeemer's risen
Still, answers are all I crave
How can I believe that which I have never seen?
Has the Lord defeated the grave?

Tear away the ties that bind you
Roll away the stone that hides you
Leave all sin and death behind you
See the Lord through eyes of faith
Happy they whose hearts receive Him
Though their eyes have never seen Him
In your faith, you will perceive Him
See the Lord through eyes of faith
Come and see our savior the Lord

Come and see our savior the Lord

I know that my redeemer's risen
For sinners, His blood He gave
With faith as my guide, all my fears are cast aside
For the Lord defeated the grave
