Don't go thinking I'm crazy
But my fear is it's too late
Won't go making no trouble
'Cause I feel like I could break

All of those times I ran away
From all of those things I used to say
All of those plans I had to give it all

And I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Now it's more than I can take
And I feel like I could break

Don't go thinking I'm crazy
But I'm feeling Your heartache
Your creation through Your eyes
There is pain it's no mistake

Closer I get to You I see
Souls full of hurt, full of need
The closer I get I see less of me

And I feel like I could break
And, I feel like I could break
Lord, I know now it's getting late
Let my heart be broken by Your heartache

And I feel like I could break
Now, it's more than I can take

'Cause all of those times I ran away
From all of those things I used to say
And all of those pains I feel revealed to me

'Cause I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Now it's more than I can take
Let my heart be broken by Your heartache

'Cause I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break

Lord I am broken, broken, broken in my heart
Broken by Your heartache

Don't go thinking I'm crazy
But I feel like
