Inside me, there's a child afraid of
Growing up and letting go
Inside me, there's a world of danger
Could you pull this whole thing down?

'Cause inside you, there's much forgiveness
Endless love, unconditional
And inside you, there's a world of favor
Rising up and breaking through

Oh, how He loves you and me

Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will have their time
Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will find their time
Find their time

Inside me, there's a child afraid of
Moving in and getting close
Inside you, there's a world of healing
Ever free, so dangerous

Oh, how He loves you and me

Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will have their time
Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will find their time

Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will have their time
Oh, it's gonna be alright
All these things will find their time
Find their time

It's gonna be alright
It's gonna be alright
It's gonna be alright
