"Something To Believe In"

our land
our shore
waits for somethin' to believe in white skies
white seas
bring us please

stirrin' below
starting to grow
is a world full of colors
we can barely remember (on the move again)
stirrin' below
pushing through snow
there is life, wild life comin' back from December

fogs lift
crowds yearn
our turn
for somethin' to believe in ice melts
streams flow
all creation knows
somethin's on the move

sweeping the land
blanketing sin
there's a world full of colors
we can barely remember
(on the move again)
this is no thaw
this is morning to all
this is life, wild life
comin' back from December (on the move again)

Bridge
sweepin' across the land

bringing all the colors bringin' back color
mournin' to joy
mournin' to joy
(on the move again)

stirring below
starting to grow
pushing through snow
(on the move again)

sweeping the land
blanketing sin
this is no thaw
this is mornin' to all
this is life, wild life
(on the move again)
