Katherine:

Til the moment I found you,
I thought I knew what love was.
Now I'm learning what is true,
That love will do what it does.

The world finds ways to sting you
And then one day, decides to bring you
Something to believe in
For even a night.

One night may be forever,
But that's alright, that's alright.
And if you're gone tomorrow,
What was ours still will be.

I have something to believe in,
Now that I know you believed in me.

Jack:

We was never meant to meet,
And then we meet, who knows why.
One more stranger on the street.
Just someone sweet passin' by.

An angel come to save me,
Who didn't even know she gave me
Something to believe in
For even a day.

One day may be forever,
But that's okay, that's okay.
And if I'm gone tomorrow,
What was ours still will be.

I have something to believe in,
Now that I know you believed in me.

Both:

Do you know what I believe in?
Look into my eyes and see.

(Spoken)

Jack: If things were different...

Katherine: What, if you weren't going to Santa Fe?

Jack: Uh, and if you weren't an heiress. If your father wasn't after my Head.

Katherine: You're not really scared of my father.

Jack: No, but I am pretty scared of you.

Katherine: Don't be.

Jack:

And if I'm gone tomorrow...

Katherine:

What was ours still will be.

Both:

I have something to believe in,
Now that I know you believed in me.

Jack:

I have something to believe in,

Both:

Now that I know you believed in me.
