Humankind, it's not fair, why should we all live in fear?
Humankind, it's a test to see who's the very best
Humankind, I don't know why no one cares who lives or dies
Humankind, don't look at me, look at yourself, what do you see?

People always tellin' lies, they can keep their alibis
People knockin' at my door, how come they want more and more?
People talkin' behind your back, most of them drive a Cadillac
People staring at your clothes, I can't take it anymore, no more

Humankind, it's a shame some don't even know their name
Humankind are so strange, some need to be rearranged
Humankind, I don't know why no one cares who lives or dies
Humankind, don't look at me, look at yourself, what do you see?

People always tellin' lies, they can keep their alibis
People knockin' at my door, how come they want more and more?
People talkin' behind your back, most of them drive a Cadillac
People staring at your clothes, I can't take it anymore, no more

Tell me, tell me, who's to blame for people acting this way?
Tell me, tell me, what's so wrong if humans just got along?
Tell me, tell me, tell me, please, if psychiatric help is what we need, oh

People always tellin' lies, they can keep their alibis
People knockin' at my door, how come they want more and more?

People talkin' behind your back, most of them drive a
Cadillac
People staring at your clothes, I can't take it anymore

People, yeah, people
People, yeah, people
