"Break Me Down"

One day
It happened
I found somebody that needs some help
I come a little closer to me and I shout

The time that I don't notice me
You find me and you break me down
The time that I don't notice it
You find me and you break me down

The next day, the killers come
I need some help for me
I need some help, No one can find me
The killers trying to break me down and I said

The time that I don't notice me
You find me and you break me down

The time that I don't notice it
You find me and you break me down

I keep running around,
I keep hearing the sound
It feels like home, but I just don't know
Stop killing me, I feel like i'm burning down to the Ground
Stop breaking me down!

The time that I don't notice me
You find me and you break me down
The time that I don't notice it
You find me and you break me down
