chorus:

[Evidence]

Night life..

Ready to spit

Tags what? Evidence

Cross the planet

Step it up this year weather man

The times right, sleep all day to wake up for night life

Ready to spit

When it drops, gonna hit

We step it up, no doubt the times right

Sleep all day to wake up for night life

Start every verse with something to quote:

"The devil you know, is better than the devil you don't"

Last year.. a test, true colors where shown

Kings remained in chess on the board and life in thrones

Music catch the force of my mic

Thats why at night I be out postin' up my own snipes

For years I sat back, played the role, what for?

This here disc, hear us raw

Can't fake it anymore

Check it out: You now witness the scenes

2nd release, Expansion Team

Shit thumps, shine bright headlights seen on

The like laser beams drive fast things and tee green

(chorus)

You know these nights ain't gettin' any longer

Put your best out and bail

You never know, you might get stronger

I stood back a bit, take punchlines out raps been more legitimate

Solidify our place in the game, pleasure with pain

Tropical flow: see sun but feel rain

Its easy to secrete yourself up in the mix

That's why its good to get out at night and holler at chicks

I take it back before studio racks, before I understood the concept of seperatin' tracks Before...
Around the time my life when I swore
That the mic was a device not to be taken light

Night life...
Graffiti artists get armed
Cans get shook, the walls get bombed
This is the time when shadow rocks get thrown
At your tinted car windows sound off the alarm
This is the time you execute your plan
While other people sleep, jewels get ran
In get away vans exit off ramps
Smaller operations are shops bigger one camps
Rock knots in pocket pants
Got the advance, and back for my back end in hands
And things ain't always what they seem from a glance
But up close shit'll change your whole prespective
Shadows close in, you realize you ain't protected

(chorus)
