"Another Tequila"

My glass was empty
Like the soul of the damned
I kept on holdin' onto
This mirage I had in my hand
I never made the truth
It's too easy to break

Now I walk alone thinkin' for God's sake
There's another tequila down tonight

Well don't think of pity
It gives chills down my spine
I sink into this deeply
But I can't turn back the hands of time
I can go on convincin'
Myself and everone
But maybe I'm lookin' like a fool

There's another tequila down tonight

And as the days go by
This song remains unchanged
Lookin' for redemption
Any form or shape
I never stole the truth
But it's easy to steal

Now I drink alone thinkin' for God's sake
There's another tequila down tonight
For God's sake
