On the run in a world that everyday speeds faster
Time goes by, it will never stop
As I walk reality amplifies my nightmares
I feel stuck between these four walls
Give me something not to end up all alone
Give me something that I need to feel complete

So where should I go when it tumbles down
And nothing can lead me? I'm tearing apart
I pray up to God to send me a mark
You don't understand a life can be so dark

Summer's gone, winter too, they faded without a memory
Just like smoke that's drifting in the air
A big void is all they left, spring and fall with all their hopes
Helped to satisfy, satisfy my desires
Give me something not to end up all alone
Give me something that I need to feel complete

Looking at the mirror hanging on the wall
I see no one, no face, no eyes, no heart at all I'd like to go back to those times when I was feeling happy
I was strong and life was easy
