DJ's playing my favourite song
A drink is in my hand
And dirty things in my head
I am staring at this forbidden girl
She's all dressed up
And there's something down out of control

By the way I am not an accuser
She's killing the losers
She's merely beautiful

And I try not to be stoned
I drink but got control
A smile is printed on my face
Quietly waiting for the moment to come
She finds my eyes
I'm sure everything is alright

So I follow her ass to the dance floor
And nothing can go wrong
Cause i know that it's just

The same old story
When lights are going down
Something new could happen
And I wish I make it
My sex appeal is high
And something weird could happen

But when I start talking to her
I hear a voice that makes me worry
I ask her name, she says "I'm Frank"
And I don't wanna see the Frank she's got under her pants...

The same old story
When lights are going down
Something new could happen
And I wish I don't make it
I'm scared about this guy
Cause something new could happen
I don't want it to happen...
