Everyone is sleeping and I walk through the town
And I'm going insane....
The dark is all around me, will I win this night?
I can't explain...

And I am
Dreaming of the past
That is never coming back
While I feel there's too much on my shoulders
Left to die alone
Explanation is unknown
Streetlights are not enough to see the road

I should think this story helped me to grow up
But I hate this pain...
Cause there is nothing I can learn from my mistakes
Where's my mistake?
There's no mistake...

Oh can you hear the sorrow
I'm screaming out loud?
You will sleep till tomorrow
Your days will not be grey
You will find a better way
You've been giving up the game
And you will go on

While I'm
Dreaming of the past
That is never coming back
While I feel there's too much on my shoulders
Explanation is unknown
Streetlights are not enough to see the road
I'm still calling out your name
And I know you won't come back
There's no consolation prize for losers
Memories became
Only shadows in my head
Now the sun is rising, I can see the road
But I am still alone
