Wake up, your time has come
Stand up, and start to run
Until your dreams come true

You will betray yourself
If you have someone else
Who works instead of you

And the fear of what you don't know
Makes you want Him by your side
And the bitter taste of danger's in your mind

And you never crossed the line
You never got exposed and used to hide,
Pray your Father, close your eyes
Will you leave it all behind?
Never lookin' back, you run so fast
Stop to whine and do your best
Believe in your...self

The nights, have never been
So dark but you can hear
A voice that make you smile

Out there what's goin' on?
Don't care you're on the run
And feelin' good inside
