So when you see me on the way,
Will you pack up or will you stay?
Do you believe that you can weather this storm?
To your misfortune
I come by only to consume.
So your life will be no more,
Not like it was before.
Are you prepared to leave what's there?
Do materials make your life?
I wonder why.
What do you see as precious?
Now, will you neglect it since time is not on your side?
Let go of your pride!

I am a natural disaster,
And your joy is what I am after...
I am a natural disaster, oh!

If I was an earthquake,
I would crack your world,
I would destroy everything.
Make it like there was no life before.
I could be a blue flame,
I would burn so cold
Would not leave a trace of life,
Or any fortune that you could hold.

I am a natural disaster!
I am a natural disaster!
And your joy is what I am after.

If I was the west wind

I would blow you down!
Or maybe if I was a twister
I would come and sweep you right up off the ground!
I am a wave of emotion,
Come to flood your heart!
My terror might just leave you breathless
As you watch your world fall apart.

I am a natural disaster!

I am a natural disaster!
And your joy is what I am after.

So when you see me on the way,
Will you pack up or will you stay?
Can you weather this storm?
To your misfortune I come by
Only to consume you oh, no more!
Tell me, are you prepared to leave what is there?
Do materials make your life?
Oh, what do you see as precious?
Will you neglect it
Now that time is not on your side?
Let go of your pride!

Now that time is not on your side?
And let go of your pride!
Oh, what do you see as precious?
Will you neglect it,
Since time is not on your side?
