

Saint Motel

"At least I have nothing"

Visit "At least I have nothing" on MotoLyrics.com

Finally, I can be true to a cause.
I can be far from the money.
I can be free from all jobs.

And I know that sounds crazy
Everything does.
We're all gonna die here.
At least we could try.

At least I have nothing.
Nothing to tie me down.
Not even someone.
I've got no more family in this town.

And I had such high hopes for the minds of our generation.
If we had some goals we could reach out and take them.

Finally, I have nothing called home.
I know the true joy of sorrow.
Of which I'm sharing alone.

And I probably messed up,
Made a mistake.
At least it was mine.
At least I can say.

At least I have nothing.
Nothing to tie me down.
Not even someone.
I've got no more family in this town.

And I had such high hopes for the minds of our generation.
If we had some goals we could reach out and take them.
Instead we're apart, no movement to follow.
We are just stuck inside their business model.

I'll probably die here,

I probably will,
I'll say it again.
I'll scream it from hell.

At least I have nothing.
Nothing to tie me down.
Not even someone.
I've got no more family in this town.

And I had such high hopes for the minds of our generation.
If we had some goals we could reach out and take them.
Instead we're apart, no movement to follow.
We are just stuck inside their business model.

Visit Saint Motel page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.