This picture is perfect the journey here was worth it two candles, one twilight few it's only me and you

just leave it all behind
we'll spend an eternity
in each others eyes
we'll love, we'll never die
what more do we need to share
when we share our lives

We said we'd get married and make a happy ending before we can't see the light tomorrow is tonight

and we'll walk down by the ocean at night pretend our way is lit by starlight and we'll stay til dawn and if we never see another soul come to cross our path we'll know it's alright we can't be wrong
