So you went around girl, you pushed me down
And I'm waiting for you to come around
But I'm starting to think you can fly
Because your heads so high up in the sky
Tell me how's the view
It hurts my eyes to watch for you
But I still wait for you
Because the word I gave was true

And I wish it took just a little bit longer
For you to move on
And I wish I was just a little bit stronger
Tell me how are you gone?

It must be nice to be so strong
Beautiful and never wrong
It must be nice to have a heart so strong
That just won't break

So you went around girl, you pushed me down
And you still never came back around
You got caught up on him
You're on to someone else again
So look at you in your heels
You know you got sex appeal
Tear me up, leave me alone
Look at you and your heart of stone

And I wish it took just a little bit longer
For you to move on

And I wish I was just a little bit stronger
Tell me how are you gone?

It must be nice to be so strong
Beautiful and never wrong
It must be nice to have a heart so strong
That just won't break

In the mean time, I'll be looking to the sky
If you find time, feel free to stop by It's a little lonely down here, I've been stuck here for years

Please just let me go on my own

Ooh, no

It must be nice to be so strong
Beautiful and never wrong
It must be nice to have a heart so strong
That just won't break

It must be nice to be so strong
Beautiful and never wrong
It must be nice to have a heart so strong
That just won't break

I just can't break your heart, ooh yeah
