She speaks, its like the thunder rolling around
She weeps, its like the rain pouring down all over me
She cries, and it feels just like a hurricane
She tries, and she shakes my world like an earthquake

She's so beautiful and I love her in everyway
So incredible, I think about it everyday
So why oh why, why can't I call her mine
Sitting here thinking, damn she gets me every time

She loves, its like a sip of wine on an August night
Its too much, something so wrong that feels so right
And she hates, like she hates nothing else
Its so great, its amazing when she yells

She's so beautiful and I love her in everyway
So incredible, I think about it everyday
So why oh why, why can't I call her mine
Sitting here thinking, damn she gets me every time

And every time I think about it

Wonder how I live without it
She keeps amazing me
She pretends that she's hating me
She's not appreciating me
Please fill this vacancy
Well, annoying- I hate to be
But baby you're making me
So take my hand, set me free
I'm asking you, baby please
I'm dirty girl make me clean
Take my hand, set me free
I've got your love all over me

She's so beautiful and I love her in everyway
So incredible, I think about it everyday
So why oh why, why can't I call her mine
Sitting here thinking, damn she gets me every time
