i play it in my mind, i put it on rewind /
over and over i play it, the same result everytime /
the reason why you not here, reason for my nightmares /
still searching for the reason but to me it's not clear / it's the reason why i'm not there by your side / if i knew what i know now i would've take the ride / would of stepped inside with my seatbelt tied / if i knew i had to go just for you to stay alive / but no one survived when your vehicles collided / the car went up in flames and you was trapped inside it /
the lights and the sirens of ambulance and firemen / remember the phone rang, the scream and the crying / news to a mother that her baby boy was dying / that feeling right there, no words can describe it / damn how'd you have to go without giving a sign / was too early for your time, you was just reaching your prime / had me going out my mind 'cause i thought we'd be forever /
'cause when we was together life was just better /
but when the clock stops ticking and your world stops turning /
tell me why you crashed & burned /

crash & burn /
tell my why you crash & burn /
crash & burn /
crash & burn /

i play it in my mind, i put it on rewind /
over and over i play it, the same results everytime / the reason why you not here, reasons for my nightmares /

yes, still searching 'but difficult for me to see / hard 'cause you believed in me, easily / now im just trying to get things back to where they need to be / in the fast lane we was living for the moment / rare like the tears from the eyes of this grown man /

no i never show them, but inside im broken / yeah im so broken, my hope is hopeless / you know when you never get that chance to say goodbye /
that's when you get the news and you wish it was a lie / and, then you hear the truth and begin to ask why / you never find an answer as hard as you try / so after this one any reason that i die / remember that i said "Goodbye" /

crash & burn
gone to soon
tell me why you crash & burn
gone to soon
crash & burn
gone to soon
crash & burn

gone to soon
i can't go on
gone too soon
but i got to go on, on.
